LIFE ENDS.

Patrick Bannon, One of Louisville's Oldest Business Men, at Rest.

Fifty-Four Years of Activity in the City of His Personal Choice.

Identified With Its Best Interests, His Death Mourned by Many.

DEVOUT CATHOLIC AND IRISH PATRIOT

Quietly and peacefully as he had lived, so died Patrick Bannon, Sr., one of the oldest active manufacturers in Louisville, at his home, 2807 Rowan street, at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday night. There was no man of any walk in life in Louisville more thoroughly identified with its interests. He was eighty-two years old and had been in business here for fifty-four years. Active, earnest, honest and attentive to business, whatever enterprise he set on foot prospered. At the time of his death he was President of the P. Bannon Sewer Pipe Company and of the Kentucky Vitrified Brick Company. He also held a large block of stock in the Louisville Public Warehouse and owned stock in many other corporations.

Mr. Bannon is survived by his sons, who were associated with him in business, and three daughters. The sons are M. Jeff Bannon, Richard B. Bannon and Patrick Bannon, Jr. The daughters are Mrs. Robert L. Burrell and Mrs. Edward D. O'Connor, of Louisville, and Mrs. S. A. Hardesty, of Memphis.

Death came to Mr. Bannon from the infirmities due to old age. Until recently he had never been seriously ill and rarely ever missed a day from his office, 510 West Jefferson street, until Thanksgiving day, the last time he was able to appear on the street. From that time on he sank slowly until the end came. He passed away fortified by all the rights of holy mother church.

Patrick Bannon was born in the town of Killoogh, County Down, Ireland, on July 12, 1824. Although a native of the Province of Ulster, or "Black North," as some call it, he was descended from a family of strict Roman Catholics. Like his ancestors, he kept the faith and transmitted it to his children. When quite a youth he was sent to learn the plasterers' trade and so assiduously became a master workman. To a young man of his ambition and ability there was little to be gained by remaining in Ireland, and in 1849, when he had attained his twenty-fifth year, he sailed for America and at once took up his residence in Cincinnati. In those days good plasterers were scarce in this section of the country. Within a year Mr. Bannon was recognized as the best mechanic at his trade in the Queen City. He received good wages, was thrifty and was within a short time contracting for plastering work on his own account.

In 1852 the Cathedral of the Assumption, in this city, was ready to be plastered. Mr. Bannon's fame had spread and he was employed to do the work. It was generally recognized as the best piece of work in the city, and it stands today a monument to his genius and ability. On completing the Cathedral he returned to Cincinnati, but was recalled to Louisville to do the work on the old Baptist church on Fourth and Walnut streets. By the time that work was completed Mr. Bannon knew and liked the people of Louisville. The people liked him and appreciated his work, so he remained here and began a general contracting plastering business. He recognized certain peculiarities in the clay in this vicinity and saw his way clear to a competency. In 1853 he began the manufacture of terra cotta pipe. His first factory was on Jefferson street, between Third and Fourth. His pipes were made and he made money from the start. He moved his plant to Fifth street, between Third and Fourth. His pipes were made and he made money from the start. He moved his plant to Fifth street, between Third and Fourth. His pipes were made and he made money from the start.

sewer pipe plant was located at Thirteenth and Maple. This industry grew like his other enterprises and for many years he has had the largest sewer pipe factory in the South and one of the largest in the world. Years before this he had retired from the plastering business to devote all his time and attention to other business interests.

In 1889 he added the manufacture of vitrified brick to his diversified interests and established a factory on Magnolia avenue, between Ninth and Tenth. He organized a stock company to carry on this work. Mr. Bannon was chosen President and his eldest son, M. Jeff Bannon, owned the controlling stock. Together they invested $100,000 in the plant. The new plant proved successful and the Bannon brick have not only been used for paving purposes in Louisville, but also in Atlanta, Knoxville, Nashville, Frankfort, Lexington, Lawrenceburg and many other cities in the South. Only 5 per cent. of the output of the various factories has been sold in Louisville, the remainder being disposed of throughout Kentucky and the South.

Mr. Bannon was always interested in politics and voted nothing but the straight Democratic ticket. In 1866 he was elected a member of the Lower Board of the General Council. He was re-elected in 1868 and was then chosen President of that body. A few years later he was prominently mentioned in connection with the Mayoralty race, but he declined the honor on account of his rapidly growing business interests.

In 1860 he married Miss Louisa Ellen Smith, a daughter of Early Smith, a prominent resident of the county. Mrs. Bannon died in 1878, leaving a family of seven children. Since then one of the children, Mrs. Ellis Jacquemin, died. In 1878 Mr. Bannon married Mrs. Susan Brackheimer, who died two years ago. Four years ago the P. Bannon Sewer Pipe Company was incorporated with Mr. Bannon as President; his eldest son, M. Jeff Bannon, Vice President and General Manager; Richard B. Bannon, his eldest son, Treasurer; Richard B. Bannon, his second son, Treasurer; and Henry M. Woltring, an old faithful employee, Secretary.

The officers of the Kentucky Vitrified Brick Company were P. Bannon, President; M. Jeff Bannon, Vice President and General Manager; R. P. Burrell, a son-in-law of Mr. Bannon, Secretary; and Patrick Bannon, Jr., Treasurer.

In all his years in America Mr. Bannon never forgot the land of his birth and since coming to America he made two trips to Ireland. He always took an active interest in Irish affairs. In former years he was a prominent member of the Sons of Erin, the Fenians, the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, the Irish Land League, the Irish Catholic Benevolent Union, and other societies. At the time of his death he was a member of the Knights of Columbus.

Notwithstanding his thrift Mr. Bannon ever had his hand in his pockets for worthy charities. He gave irrespective of race or religion. His friends were legion, but it is his sons and daughter, to whom he was such an affectionate father, who will miss him most. His half-brother and former partner in business, Barney J. Campbell, will also miss him. So will the Rev. Father Hugh Brady, John McAteer, Charles J. White and others who have for years been almost daily visitors at his office.

The funeral took place from the Cathedral of the Assumption at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, and that large edifice was thronged with friends and acquaintances of the departed, and within the sanctuary were many clergymen to assist at the solemn mass of requiem. The active pall-bearers were Matt J. Winn, Charles J. O'Connor, Peter M. O'Reilly, Robert A. Watson, Dr. Wm. B. Doherty, James J. Fitzgerald, Charles F. Taylor and Al. S. Smith.

The honorary pall-bearers were Mayor Paul C. Barth, Hon. Charles F. Granger, Judge Matt O'Doherty, Judge Shackelford Miller, Judge John McCann, Col. John McAteer, Col. John H. Whalen, Col. Michael Muldoon, Pierre Vigliani, Charles Hermann, Capt. John H. Weller, Col. William B. Haldeman, Daniel P. Murphy, George A. Newman, Sr., J. P. McCollum, Bernard Cassilly, Philip Murphy, Cornelius O'Neill, Spalding Coleman, D. X. Murphy, M. J. Duffy, William Lincoln, Michael O'Sullivan, Thos. Feeley, Charles G. Stiglitz, Dr. J. W. Fowler, William M. Higgins, Charles A. Rogers, William Connaught, Thomas Shelby and Jeremiah Kavanagh.

CLERGY CHANGE

As Result of Proposed New Church at Highland Park.

The Rev. Father William McLaughlin, who was for a short time assistant priest at St. William's church in this city, has been appointed chaplain and spiritual director at Loretto Academy, where he succeeds the Rev. John H. Riley. Father Riley has been named to succeed the Rev. Father John J. Fitzgerald as pastor of the Church of the Annunciation at Shelbyville.

Father Fitzgerald has been appointed pastor of the new church to be erected in Highland Park, a suburb of Louisville. He is now in the city arranging for the building of the new edifice, and while here is the guest of his friend, the Rev. Father Thomas A. York. Father Fitzgerald has been an indefatigable worker since his ordination and has done much toward the upbuilding of several congregations prior to this in this diocese.

SPLENDID

Attendance of Jeffersonville Hibernians Greeted the National Director.

Cold Weather Had No Terrors For Warm-Hearted Sons of Erin.

Division in Healthy Condition Financially as Well as Numerically.

PATRICK'S DAY IN THE FALLS CITIES

Despite the extraordinary cold weather the Jeffersonville division of the Ancient Order of Hibernians held a splendid meeting on Tuesday night. The announcement that National Director George J. Butler was to be present was in a great degree responsible for the large attendance. Vice President Michael J. Green presided and invited National Director Butler and former County President Patrick T. Sullivan, of Louisville, to seats on the rostrum.

An interesting communication was read regarding the teaching of Irish history and the proper text books to be used in schools and colleges. Thomas Lally was reported sick but improving, and John B. Murphy, Jr., was also reported on the sick list. The reports of the officers showed that the State and national dues had been paid and that the division was in excellent financial condition. The application of Thomas Horan was received.

Among the prominent Jeffersonville Hibernians present were County President Michael Kinney, Police Commissioner John B. Murphy, Peter Madden, Patrick Dixon, John Kenney and Barney Coll.

National Director Butler addressed the meeting and said he was glad to see the division doing so well and reflecting so much credit on Jeffersonville. He made a brief statement of the work done and of that now in progress before the National Board. Mr. Butler also made several timely suggestions on the teaching of Irish history. He said the order was growing throughout the country. In conclusion he predicted a great year for the order and assured all that encouraging reports would be read at the national convention at Saratoga. His remarks were well received.

Former County President Sullivan also made a short talk and offered a special plea for the study of Irish history. William M. Higgins, editor of the Kentucky Irish American, made a congratulatory address and invited the members to visit Division 1 and the other divisions in Louisville.

It was determined to celebrate St. Patrick's day, and the following committee was appointed to make the necessary arrangements: Thomas Dixon, Thomas Lally, Thomas Gleason, Will Constantine and Bernard Coyle. The nature of the entertainment was not positively decided, but in all probability it will be a euchre.

After the meeting the members spent a pleasant half hour in social conversation with their Louisville visitors.

The committee appointed by the local County Board to arrange for the St. Patrick's day celebration has secured Macaulay's Theater for Sunday night, March 18. While the programme has not been arranged, it can be positively stated that an eloquent orator will be secured for the occasion and a musical programme of purely Irish airs will be given.

GREAT MAJORITY

Gives Hon. Emmet Slattery His Seat in the State Legislature.

The House of Representatives of the Kentucky Legislature settled the Bernheim-Slattery contest on Thursday, seating the Hon. Emmet Slattery by a vote of 60 to 26. Mr. Slattery is one of the ablest and most popular young lawyers at the Louisville bar.

Since his appearance in the role of State solon he has added fresh laurels to his wreath by manliness and energy. He is making a splendid Representative for the Sixth and Seventh wards in the present General Assembly. He was appointed a member of the Committee on Public Morals, and when the bill to enable the city of Louisville to issue bonds to the extent of $4,000,000 for the construction of sewers was presented to the Legislature Representative Slattery was asked to explain its provisions to the House. So well did he acquit himself that no one had any questions to ask and no other speech was made on the subject. The bill was passed without a dissenting vote.

FAKE OR TRUE?

A cablegram from Rome to the daily papers is responsible for the story that Cardinal Solitoli is the first Roman Cardinal to use an automobile in that city. The message says he had special permission from the Pope himself in order that he might visit certain parts of the diocese where there are no railroads. The same dispatch declares that Cardinal Ferrari, Archbishop of Milan, has used a motor car for three years in making his episcopal visitations, and adds that he has been much censured for his innovation.

The probability is that the whole dispatch is a fake designed to kill space.

ETERNAL LIFE

Is Now the Portion of Mrs. Julia Dalton Coleman, an Irish Lady.

One of Louisville's oldest and most respected Irish ladies was called to eternal rest when Mrs. Julia Dalton Coleman died at her home, 1731 Portland avenue, last Saturday morning. The deceased had been complaining for several weeks, but her illness did not take a serious turn until a few days before her death.

The deceased was born in the parish of Atha, County Limerick, Ireland, seventy-four years ago, but had lived in St. Patrick's parish, Louisville, more than fifty years. Mrs. Coleman was a member of a long-lived family. Two sisters, Mrs. James Liston, aged eighty-five, and Mrs. Timothy Sullivan, aged eighty-six, still survive in the parish of Atha. Another sister, Mrs. Nicholas Liston, lived to the advanced age of ninety-four years.

During her long life this gentle lady was always energetic and cheerful and for many years was associated with her son in the conduct of a dry goods store at her residence. Three children survive. They are Dennis J. and Mrs. Mary Kelly, of this city, and Mrs. Elizabeth Brady, of Albany, N. Y. A number of grandchildren also survive her. Patrick J. Liston, a well known Hibernian, is her nephew. Besides these Mrs. Coleman was related to many of the oldest Irish families in the city. Saturday night and Sunday the house was crowded with friends and relatives who went to pay their respects to the dead woman's memory. The floral tributes were numerous and exceedingly handsome. High mass of requiem was celebrated over her remains at St. Patrick's church on Monday morning and the church was filled with sorrowing friends.

GRAND DIRECTORS

Will Discuss Matters of Importance to Y. M. I. Tomorrow Afternoon.

The Board of Grand Directors, Y. M. I., of the Kentucky jurisdiction, will meet at Mackin club house at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Chairman Frank G. Adams will preside and every member of the board is expected to be present, as matters of importance are to be passed upon.

Among the matters to be discussed and in all probability definitely decided upon will be the city for the next Grand Council. Frankfort, New Haven and Owensboro are in the field and each of these towns have special reasons to urge.

Frankfort will send a delegation from Lambert Young Council headed by D. J. McNamara to press her claims. It is probable that Supreme Trustee John J. Barry will represent New Haven, while Fred W. Arnold will speak for Owensboro.

The meeting has been called at an early hour in order that business may be disposed of in time to let the members of the board catch their trains for home.

LADIES' AUXILIARY

Will Hold Open Meeting and Reception at an Early Date.

The Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., held its regular meeting on Wednesday night. Miss Mary Sheridan presided and told those assembled about her trip to Chicago and her visit to the auxiliary there. She had picked up many suggestions for the improvement of the local auxiliary.

Three new applications were reported and the report of the Treasurer showed a very handsome balance on the right side of the books. The information that Miss Bridget Hanrahan was suffering from a broken arm was received with regret. Mrs. Hanrahan tripped on the stairs while attending the auxiliary.

The committee in charge of the dramatic club reported progress. It was decided to hold an open meeting and reception on the night of Wednesday, February 22. The gentlemen friends of the Ladies' Auxiliary are particularly invited to be present.

HOLY NAME SOCIETY.

Tomorrow will be the regular monthly communion day for the Holy Name Society at St. Louis Bertrand's church. The Rev. Father Clark, O. P., who is pro tempore pastor of the congregation, made an eloquent appeal at the late mass last Sunday for a better and more regular attendance at the monthly communions. The men of the congregation, he said, were banded together to prevent cursing and swearing and to protect the holy name of Jesus from insult. If they were banded together for some worldly or material benefit the attendance would be much greater. The meeting will be held immediately after the 6 o'clock mass tomorrow.

BOSTON

People Are Well Pleased With Their New Coadjutor Archbishop O'Connell.

Honors Have Come Very Rapidly to This Able Young Prelate.

Success of His Recent Mission to Japan Won Him Favor.

PERSONA GRATA TO ARCHBISHOP

The new Coadjutor Archbishop of Boston, William H. O'Connell, has been Bishop of Portland, Maine, during the past three and a half years. While it was known that since his recent mission to Japan and its successful outcome that he was in line for some promotion, his appointment to the Coadjutorship of Boston, with the right of succession to the See, came in the way of surprise. Bishop O'Connell was not one of those names selected by the Bishops of the archdiocese of Boston. As it is, Rome ignored the list of names selected and promoted him. It is believed that Cardinal Solitoli was one of those who urged Bishop O'Connell's new appointment.

Bishop O'Connell was born in Lowell, Mass., in 1859, and received his education at Boston College. Later he went to St. Charles' Seminary, Baltimore, finishing his theological course at the American College in Rome. Cardinal Solitoli was one of his professors in the metropolis of Christendom. In 1885 he was appointed assistant pastor at Medford, Mass., where he remained four years and then went to Boston as assistant at St. Joseph's church. There he remained ten years, when he was appointed rector of the American College at Rome. While there he presided with great success and was a worthy follower of our own Right Rev. Bishop McCloskey, the first Rector of that college. When the Right Rev. James A. Healy, Bishop of Portland, died in August, 1900, the See remained vacant for quite a period. When the clergy sent in the names of those they preferred Bishop O'Connell's name was not on the list. The names of those chosen by the priests of the diocese were passed over, and the then Father O'Connell was named by the Vatican.

Only a few months ago he was sent by his Holiness Pius X. on an important mission to Japan. It is presumed that his appointment as Coadjutor to Archbishop Williams is a reward for the successful manner in which he accomplished the work cut out for him.

The diocese of Boston was established in 1808, but the archbishopric was not created until 1875. It covers a territory of 2,465 square miles and the jurisdiction extends over 1,000,000 Catholics.

Archbishop John Joseph Williams is the oldest in the American hierarchy. He was consecrated Bishop of Boston on March 11, 1866, and nine years later his See was raised to the dignity of an archdiocese. He has long been an admirer of Bishop O'Connell and it is generally believed preferred him as Coadjutor and successor above all others suggested. Although the Archbishop is an aged man and rather weak physically, his mind appears to be as strong as ever.

Archbishop O'Connell is well known and personally popular in the archdiocese to which he goes. His admirers predict that still higher honors will come to him.

BUSINESS MEETING

Of Division 3 Held on Monday and Important Matters Considered.

Division 3, A. O. H., held a well attended meeting Monday night considering the inclemency of the weather. President Patrick Welch occupied the chair and dispatched business with promptness. Joseph Lannon, who has been seriously ill, was reported well. Michael Quinn and John Lynch were reported ill but improving.

A communication was read from the Ladies' Auxiliary asking Division 3 to co-operate with them in making their dramatic club a success and to send representatives to their next meeting. The members promised to assist the ladies in their undertaking. National Director George J. Butler made a brief address in favor of the proposed home, and his sentiments were approved by James Coleman.

It was announced that the County Board would meet tomorrow and that a full attendance was desired. In addition to the report of the Home Committee the St. Patrick's day committee will make its report at tomorrow's meeting.

UNTIL AFTER EASTER.

The New Albany division of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will give another of its delightful eueches next Tuesday afternoon and evening. As this will be the last until after Easter a large attendance is expected. The members extend a cordial invitation to all their friends in the three Falls cities to be present. The afternoon game will be called at 2:30 and the evening game at 8:30 o'clock. The admission will be only ten cents and handsome prizes are to be awarded.

The members have several applications ready to be acted upon at the next meeting.

LADIES AT WORK

To Help in Making Unity Council Bazaar a Grand Success.

At the request of members of Unity Council, Y. M. I., of New Albany, the respective pastors of Holy Trinity and St. Mary's congregations called a meeting of the ladies at 2 o'clock last Sunday afternoon. The meeting was held in St. Joseph's Hall and the attendance was large and gratifying.

Grand Treasurer Charles F. Pfeffer, of the Y. M. I. of the Indiana jurisdiction, called the meeting to order and explained its object. The members of Unity Council are desirous of beginning work on their new club house during the coming spring and they wanted the co-operation of the ladies in raising additional funds. With their aid a bazaar will be given during the week following Easter Sunday. The Rev. Father Borries, Chaplain of Unity Council, followed Secretary Pfeffer and was in turn followed by President James O'Hara. The ladies at once took active interest and organized a committee of twelve, six from each parish, to begin the work. Mrs. Mary Breetz was elected Chairman. The committee is made up as follows:

St. Mary's—Mesdames Mary Breetz, Frank A. Kraft, Theodore Moritz, William Soergel, Ben Gliderhaus and Ben Hinkelstein.

Holy Trinity—Misses Ida Kuehrlein and Bridget Lamon, Mesdames William Reeveuer, Emilie Dupiquier, Carry McClintock and Bette Graf.

The ladies have held several meetings during the present week and have things in splendid shape. It has been arranged to give a euchre on the afternoon and evening of Washington's birthday to secure money enough to buy prizes for the bazaar.

During the bazaar a handsome piano will be awarded the most popular young lady and a Shetland pony to the most popular girl or boy.

PREPARING

For Grand Banquet Are Cincinnati's Friendly Sons of St. Patrick.

The Cincinnati branch of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick held a business meeting and social session at the St. Nicholas Hotel in that city last Saturday night. It was what is known as "President's night," and President Charles F. Williams regaled his fellow-members with a buffet luncheon after the business of the evening was disposed of.

At the business meeting the new President stated that he wanted to have the best that could be afforded at the annual banquet on March 17, both in the way of speakers and viands, and that he wanted the society to grow larger and better than ever during the coming year. His new Executive Committee was announced as follows: Thomas J. Cogan, Norman G. Kennan, H. J. Cain, A. J. Conroy and J. Kineary.

The Entertainment Committee is composed of E. J. Tully, W. A. Hopkins, Peter Costello, Joseph Dermody and Joseph Dillon.

While the luncheon was being served songs were sung by several of the members.

TRIUMPHAL

Entry Into Dublin by the New Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.

The Earl of Aberdeen, the new Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, made a triumphal entry into Dublin on Saturday. The entire route from the quay to Dublin Castle was lined with troops. It was exactly twenty years since the Earl was first sent to Ireland as Lord Lieutenant. He made an able and kind executive before, and this time the people turned out in holiday attire to welcome his return. Public buildings and private dwellings were profusely decorated for the occasion.

It is expected that many changes will occur in the vice regal household and some of the lesser officials have already taken their departure.

FORTY HOURS' DEVOTION.

Forty hours' devotion began at St. Peter's church, Seventeenth and Southgate streets, on Sunday and closed on Tuesday morning. The altar was brilliantly illuminated and handsomely decorated for the services. St. Michael's Commandery, Knights of St. John, attended mass in a holy on Sunday and received holy communion. The Knights made an excellent appearance in their handsome uniforms. An unusually large number attended the devotion and received holy communion.

BOUND FOR CUBA.

Col. James P. Whalen and Frank McGrath spent several days this week at Pensacola, New Orleans and Mobile. From the latter city they will sail today for Cuba.

DILEMMA

That Is Ahead of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman at Present.

Why No Irish Nationalist Will Given a Cabinet Position.

Redmond and His Party Will Be Lined Up With the Opposition.

IRELAND'S FRIENDS IN THE MINISTRY

Quite a number of Irish-Americans, even some of the editors, are waxing wrathful because Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman placed no Irish Nationalists in his Cabinet. There was good reason for his action. The Nationalists had pledged themselves to stand by home rule for Ireland first, and after that is granted they will be individually at liberty to accept Cabinet positions should they be offered. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman knew of this pledge, and hence made no offer, not even to John Redmond, the leader of the Irish party. There is one Irishman in the Cabinet, James Bryce, the new Chief Secretary for Ireland. He is both a scholar and a historian, but he has never been an Irish Nationalist.

Col. J. J. Tobin, of San Francisco, a prominent Nationalist, recently contributed to the San Francisco Call an able paper on this same subject. He says in part:

"When the new Parliament meets, with the Liberals in the majority, the Irish Nationalists will be found sitting on the same side of the house with Balfour, Chamberlain and the entire Tory opposition, against whom they have been battling since 1892. If Irishmen can not be found in the new Ministry, their friends and sympathizers can be found there in large proportion. First and foremost the Premier, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, who has never flunked since Gladstone raised the rule standard and has, in so doing and out of season, advocated Ireland's right to legislative independence; John Morley, former Chief Secretary for Ireland and her staunchest friend; Herbert Gladstone, a son of the grand old man and a faithful follower of his principles; John Burns, the great labor leader, who never missed casting his vote on the same side with the Irish National representatives, and the new Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, the Earl of Aberdeen, who was tried before in the same position and not found wanting."

"It is fortunate for Ireland that Lord Rosebery has been left out. Although, as one of Gladstone's Cabinet Ministers, he stood by him in supporting his home rule policy in Parliament, he afterwards became a backslider on the ground that the predominant partner, England, was adverse. He has lately announced that he could not serve under a home rule banner. In a certain sense the new Ministry may be regarded as a compromise Ministry. It includes strong men who are likely to put aside their differences and postpone the questions upon which they can not agree for the sake of fighting a decisive battle on a principle on which they are agreed."

"The new Chancellor of the Exchequer, H. H. Asquith, pulled in the same boat with Lord Rosebery during the Boer war. Sir Edward Grey, the new Minister for Foreign Affairs, did the same, and so did R. B. Haldane, now Secretary of War. They were all in favor of crushing the Boer republic and lined up with the jingoists as 'Imperialists,' while the great body of Liberals, who opposed the war, were dubbed 'little Englanders.'"

"If the new Government refuse some measure of home rule trouble lies ahead for Sir Henry and his Cabinet. This puts the new Premier in a difficult position. If he refuse home rule his party will lose the support of the Irish Nationalists. If he grants it a disruption of the Cabinet will surely follow. The question is: 'What horn of the dilemma will the Premier take?'"

HEROIC PRIEST.

Lost Life After He Had Saved Five College Boys in La Salle, Ill.

The Rev. Father Gilbert Simons, C. S. P., lost his life in the Illinois river at La Salle, Ill., last Saturday while rescuing number of students at St. Bede's College from drowning. A number of college boys were grouped on the river tory to being photographed, and ice gave way beneath their feet. They were all precipitated into the river. Father Simons plunged into the water at once and succeeded in bringing the boys to safety. He exhausted while returning for the boys and sank to his death. Three perished with him.

Father Simons was originally from New York, but went from St. College in Pennsylvania to about six months ago.

R. I. P.

In the death of Patrick Bannon, Sr., the city and State have lost a useful and active citizen, his children an affectionate father, the church a faithful member, the cause of Ireland an ardent devotee, the Irish people of this community a true friend. The Kentucky Irish American was indebted to him for many courtesies and kindnesses. We wish to extend our sympathy to his sorrowing family.

RIDICULOUS ASSERTION.

In an article headed "Five of the greatest ministers in America today," a writer in last Sunday's Courier-Journal, after descending upon the merits of men like Drs. Charles Henry Parkhurst, Russell A. Conwell, Wilbur Chapman and Newell Dwight Laidley, says: "Though the form of service in the Catholic Church is not peculiarly adapted to the development of pulpit eloquence, many ecclesiastical authorities of various churches hold that Archbishop Patrick John Ryan, of Philadelphia, is our most eloquent present day preacher."

Shades of St. Augustine and St. Dominic! Where did this fellow get his information that the form of service in the Catholic Church is not peculiarly adapted to the development of pulpit eloquence? From the time that he who founded the church preached His sermon on the mount to the present day, when has this church been without eloquent orators? After the tragedy on Calvary and the descent of the Holy Ghost upon the Apostles and Disciples, who were the orators, the great preachers of Christian doctrine? St. Paul was added to the list and on down through the ages too numerous to mention do they come these pulpit orators of the Catholic church. St. Augustine, St. Bernard, who preached the Crusade; St. Patrick, St. Dominic and St. Ignatius, both of whom founded orders of pulpit orators, all these must have been overlooked by the Courier-Journal's writer. Is there today a land-robed priest and the white-robed Dominican orators are unknown? Who in these days does not remember the burning eloquence of Pere Cordaire in France and of Father Burke in Ireland and America?

But pulpit oratory in Catholic churches is not confined to the Dominicans and Jesuits alone. Men of other orders, secular priests, Bishops, Archbishops, Cardinals and Popes in every age have attracted the people to the Catholic church by their eloquence. Are Catholic churches crowded with worshippers every Sunday morning to six or seven times a week whereas the vast majority of Protestant ministers preach once, or at best twice a day?

What about Archbishop Ireland and Bishop Spalding in our own country? What about Father Kearney, the great Provincial of the Dominicans and a Kentuckian to boot? The Catholic service not adapted to pulpit oratory! Who would have thought it? Surely none but this writer for the Courier-Journal.

We know that the Catholic Church has something more to back it than mere pulpit oratory, and yet that oratory has never been found wanting when it was needed. Oratory does not consist merely in high sounding phrases, beautifully rounded periods and sensational climaxes. The purest, best oratory is the greatest truths told in the simplest language, in words that reach the heart, the mind, the soul. This is the eloquence, the oratory of the Catholic priest.

But what's the use wasting more time on an assertion so palpably false, so absurdly ridiculous?

JAPAN IS SORRY.

The Kentucky Irish American and every other Irish-American journal in the United States has continued to oppose any entangling alliance with England, an affair which a number of American toadies and Anglo-maniacs sought to bring about. Now a new party has sprung up in Japan with the object of breaking off the alliance between that country and England. Lieut. Gen. Viscount Tani, former Minister of Commerce and a member of the Japanese Parliament; Takamoto Sei, the well known statesman, and many others prominent in the affairs of state are leaders in the new movement. In a recent article in The Nippon, a conservative paper, Takamoto Sei says:

"I am strongly opposed to the Anglo-Japanese alliance. The war with Russia was the result of our first alliance with Great Britain, Russia having originally no intention of getting into a war with us. The alliance forced Russia into the war. Not without reason European and Russian statesmen say that England goaded both of the countries in the conflict. Nevertheless the alliance has been renewed, and as a result the horizon in the Orient is again clouded. England needs the army of Japan, and only for that reason is she posing as Japan's friend. We have not been clear-sighted enough to see this, and have been enticed into an alliance."

Irishmen have been acquainted with English perfidy for centuries. Japan is now learning by experience.

GIRLS RIDICULE SISTERS.

Several of the female students, it would hardly do to call them young ladies, attending the Ohio State University at Columbus recently made themselves ridiculous by appearing at a fancy dress ball garbed as sisters of charity. The daily press reports that these women danced with male students of the same university attired as red devils and carrying pitchforks. Between the dances the women made a further mockery of the Catholic religion by pretending to say the rosary. The Rev. Father A. M. Leyden, pastor of St. Francis of Assisi's church, justly indignant, sent a letter of protest against this conduct to W. O. Thompson, President of the University. In case the letter is unheeded it is probable that the Catholics of Ohio will make trouble for President Thompson and the institution. Not long ago President Thompson took several of the girl pupils to task for smoking cigarettes. Ohio girls seem to want to learn all the accomplishments.

COMPLIMENTARY.

The editor of our esteemed contemporary, the Emerald, of Manchester, N. H., makes the following statement in his journal:

Hibernianism in Louisville, Ky., is in a prosperous condition. Other sections of the State should follow. Louisville Hibernians owe much to their official organ. It labors week after week for the order's interest and we are pleased to note that the Catholic merchants of the city appreciate its efforts by generously patronizing its advertising columns. Substantial support is the best mode of appreciation and the Kentucky Irish American is worthy of the support accorded.

The new British Parliament will be formally opened next week, and Irishmen on both sides of the Atlantic ocean are very anxious to see how the new Premier and his Cabinet will keep their ante-election promises. If the Liberals keep faith an Irish Parliament sitting in College Green will be as great an attraction to Americans in 1907 as the Dublin World's Fair will be.

The Kentucky House of Representatives acted wisely and well in adopting the measure raising the age of consent from twelve to sixteen years. Thus another safeguard is thrown around the purity of Kentucky womanhood.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

MACKIN COUNCIL'S EUCHRE.

Mackin Council, Y. M. L. I., expects to have its club house crowded twice on Washington's birthday, when a mammoth euchre will be given under the joint auspices of the Gymnasium Committee and Social Club. Games will be called at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and at 8:15 o'clock in the evening. Many handsome prizes have been secured to be awarded the winners of the various games. The advance sale of tickets has been very large. The proceeds will be used to repaint and embellish the dancing hall.

FEDERATION.

The Jefferson County Federation of Catholic Societies held its regular monthly meeting at the Catholic Woman's Club on Thursday night. President Patrick T. Sullivan occupied the chair and the number of societies represented indicated that the Federation will prosper under the new regime. Quite a lot of routine business was transacted and leading members made instructive addresses.

SUDDEN DEATH

Of Former Louisville Man Results From Automobile Accident.

John Emmet Gordon, son of William Gordon, the well known shoemaker, who resided at 624 Fifth street, was almost instantly killed as the result of an accident in New York on Monday. Mr. Gordon was manager of an automobile establishment in that city. In an unknown manner the automobile he was driving fell into the elevator shaft with him and his death ensued an hour later.

The remains were brought to this city and taken to his father's residence. The funeral took place from the Cathedral of the Assumption at 9 o'clock yesterday morning.

The shillalah, accounted Ireland's national weapon of defense, was originally a common blackthorn stick, but in modern times it has been replaced by the more wiry ash sapling. The real shillalah is a young shoot of the sole shrub or blackthorn pulled by the root from the crevice of some rock. After being trimmed it is placed in the smoke of turf peat, which softens the hard fiber,

RECENT DEATHS.

John A. Broderick, one of the most popular young men in the East end, died at the home of his father, John Broderick, 434 East Main street, on Tuesday morning. Death resulted from lung trouble. Three years ago, while visiting in New York City, he was caught in a severe snow-storm. A heavy cold and pneumonia followed. This weakened his lungs so much that he had been sinking slowly ever since. The deceased was thirty years old and until incapacitated by illness was associated with his father in the wagon making business. He was pleasant and agreeable and had many friends who sympathize with his parents in their deep grief.

The funeral of Mrs. John L. Deppen, the aged widow of a former clothing merchant, took place from the Sacred Heart Home, 232 College street, on Saturday morning. John L. Deppen, Jr., a son, and Mrs. Doherty, wife of Dr. William B. Doherty, survive her. She was an aunt of the Very Rev. Louis G. Deppen by marriage. Years ago she took a very active part in local Catholic and charitable affairs. The requiem mass was sung over her remains at St. Mary Magdalen's church.

The funeral of Matthew Enright, who died at his home, 2226 West Walnut street, on Friday, took place from St. Charles Borromeo's church on Sunday afternoon. Deceased was born in Ireland sixty years ago, but spent more than half his life in Louisville. He is survived by his wife and one son, Officer John Enright.

The funeral of Mrs. Anna Heisler, who died at her home, 3621 Rudd avenue, on Sunday night, took place from the Church of Our Lady on Wednesday morning. The deceased was fifty-three years old and was the widow of Henry Heisler. She was highly respected by the people of Portland.

Word was received here Thursday of the death of J. Bernard Johnson, which occurred at Albuquerque, New Mexico, that afternoon. The deceased was the son of J. R. Johnson, of 3108 Fourth avenue, and was well and favorably known in this city. He went West for the benefit of his health several months ago.

NEXT CONSISTORY.

It is announced that a consistory will be held on March 10, at which time his Holiness Pius X. will pronounce a solemn protestation against the separation of Church and State in France. It is believed in Rome that at this same consistory the Pope will fill the vacancies in the College of Cardinals.

SATOLLI COUNCIL.

Satolli Council, Y. M. I., held a meeting presided over by President Joseph L. Lenihan on Sunday afternoon. Matters of importance were discussed but definite action was postponed until the next meeting, which will be held at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, when a full attendance of the members is desired, as several changes are contemplated.

NEW SKATING RINK.

Roller skating is on the increase in Louisville, and Emile Dehler, George Buechel and Victor W. Lorch will open a new rink at Phoenix Hill Park this afternoon. It is claimed that this rink has the largest floor space in Louisville. Two sessions will be held daily, no intoxicating liquors will be sold on the premises and the best of order will be maintained.

GUS WEBER'S LUCK.

Gus Weber, the bustling city salesman for Zinsmeister & Bros., wholesale grocers, is very proud of the fact that he has become a papa for the second time. This time it is a boy. The late arrival came on Tuesday night. Mr. Weber promises to attend the next meeting of Mackin Council to receive the congratulations of his many friends. The first baby was a girl and is now two years old.

DANCE AT MASONIC.

Trinity Council, Y. M. I., will give one of its popular dances at Masonic Theater hall, Chestnut street, between Third and Fourth, on Wednesday evening, February 21. This promises to be the greatest social event of the season for Trinity Council. The members of Satolli and Mackin Councils of Louisville, Unity of New Albany and Columbus of Jeffersonville are especially invited to be present and bring their lady friends.

CAN'T TOUCH THEM.

The Kentucky Irish American bowlers secured three more victories this week, defeating the West Ends after a hard struggle. 'Squire Adams' men also won three games and advanced their standing considerably, while the Loevenharts fell back by losing three. Interest increases as the season advances and from now until March 13 every game will be watched with interest.

The following is the official standing to date:

|                         | W. | L. | P.C. |
|-------------------------|----|----|------|
| Kentucky Irish American | 51 | 15 | 773  |
| Loevenhart              | 41 | 28 | 594  |
| Squire Adams            | 38 | 31 | 565  |
| John C. Lewis           | 34 | 32 | 511  |
| Ferncliffe              | 31 | 32 | 492  |
| J. M. Robinson Norton   | 29 | 40 | 422  |
| West End                | 24 | 42 | 364  |
| Henry L. Kohler         | 20 | 46 | 303  |

ST. VALENTINE'S DAY.

Wednesday will be St. Valentine's day. St. Valentine was a Catholic Bishop and was martyred for his faith. In some manner long since lost sight of, young men and coy maids celebrated the day by sending loving missives adorned with picturesque designs to their loved ones. While this custom has increased from year to year, it has also given rise to the abuse of the joyous feast. Jealous and morose people indulge their caprices by sending comic valentines to their neighbors or to those against whom they have a grudge. Only foolish and illiterate people daily with the comic valentine.

VINCENTIAN.

Monday night the Particular Council will meet in regular monthly session in St. Francis' Hall at the Cathedral. President Campbell and Secretary Doyle request the attendance of all the members, there being quite an amount of important business to be transacted.

CANDY PULLING.

Judging from the sale of tickets, there will be an immense gathering at the Sacred Heart church school hall, Seventeenth and Broadway, on Washington's birthday, when the people of that congregation will hold their annual reunion. The afternoon will be for the children and the evening for the grown people, and a pleasant time will be had by all who attend.

PLEASANT PARTY.

Miss Christine McCallister entertained a party of friends at her home, 2721 St. Xavier street, last Monday night. Among those present were Misses Hattie Brunck, Mary Ridge, Gertrude Heitz, Della Lush and Fannie Craig and Messrs. Jack Campbell, Marvin Scott, Guy Rommel, George Wheeler, Archie and Ernest McCallister, Messrs. and Mesdames John Ridge and Alexander McCallister, Mrs. Taylor and little Miss Winifred Ridge. All enjoyed a pleasant evening.

EDWARD M'DONOUGH ILL.

Edward McDonough, of the Carter Bros. Dry Goods Company, and one of the best known business men on Main street, is confined to his home, 1212 Sixth street, by a severe attack of lumbago. His condition is somewhat improved, but he may be compelled to remain indoors several days longer.

JOHN HUBBUCH'S PLACE.

The many friends of John Hubbuch, who conducts a cafe at Twenty-sixth and Madison streets, will be glad to learn of his continued success. Although he has been in business there only a comparatively short time, he is constantly making improvements that attract attention and draw trade. His place is now one of the best equipped in the city and he is never so well pleased as when exhibiting his improvements to his friends.

RECIPE FOR SUCCESS.

Keep your head cool, your feet warm, your mind busy. Don't worry over trifles. Plan your work ahead and then stick to it, rain or shine. Don't waste sympathy on yourself. If you are a gem, some one will find you.

AMUSEMENTS.

"A Bit of High Life," with Eva Westcott and Tom Brown as the character artists, is the headliner proposed for Hopkins' Theater next week. Others on the bill include Hickey and Nelson, comedy acrobats; Charles Sweet, the tramp pianist; Whistling Tom Brown, Rawson and June, Alice Lyndon Doll and Kelton and Towle. The kinodrome will present another series of new moving pictures.

That bright and tuneful musical comedy "Babes in Toyland" will come to Macauley's Theater for a return engagement during the first half of next week. During the last half of the week McIntire and Heath will present their unusual comedy, "The Ham Tree," which has made such a hit in New York and other cities in the East.

"The Thoroughbreds," good burlesque and vaudeville organization, comes to the Buckingham Theater next week. One of the features of the show will be Carmecita, a fascinating terpsichorean queen, and Aurora, her assistant. Besides these there will be an olio of excellent vaudeville artists.

Eugene Blair, an emotional actress of exceptional merit, will present a dramatic version of "Oliver Twist" at the Masonic Theater all of next week. The production is said to be one of unusual strength and general effectiveness.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Use cheesecloth for polishing glassware—it is excellent.

Don't allow grease to burn on the outside of your frying pan.

If a hinge squeaks apply glycerine to it and it will prove effectual.

Flannels and woollens should not be touched with a very hot iron.

Remove ink from the fingers or floor by applying a damp match head.

Flannel cloths wrung from hot water often relieve neuralgia and other severe pains.

The odor of perspiration can be prevented with a few drops of oil of lavender about it.

A fire may be made to burn brightly by throwing a tablespoonful of granulated sugar into it.

It is said that the Romans used skeins of silk after the bath instead of towels to keep the skin nice.

Starch and iron wicks for oil stoves or wide lamp wicks and it will be easy to fit them to the burners.

Restore black silk velvet by steaming it over a damp cloth placed on a hot iron, then give it a brisk brushing.

When washing greasy dishes add a few drops of ammonia to the water, which makes the work quicker and more thorough.

Wash ironware outside as well as inside in hot soapy water, then rinse in clear hot water and wipe dry with a crash towel.

DON'T GET TOO BUSY.

A man going home from his work at a late hour of the night saw that the occupants of a house had left the window up, and he decided to warn them to prevent a burglary. Putting his head into the window he called out, "Halloo! good people!" That was all he said. A whole painful of water struck him in the face, and as he staggered back a woman cried out, "Didn't I tell you what you'd get if you wasn't home by 9 o'clock?"

WOMEN TOO ACTIVE.

The women of this generation are undoubtedly suffering from too much occupation. The listless, bored, discontented, unsettled girl of twenty years ago has given place to the restless, energetic and positively business woman thirsting for fresh outlets for enterprise. We are caught up in the whirlwind of modern unrest, and we imagine we are happy because we have no time to think anything to the contrary.

MIRRORS.

If you are fond of home carpentering you can make all sorts of things at trifling expense. Mirrors, for instance, come much cheaper if the plate glass is purchased by the square foot and set in to a framework fashioned by the home carpenter.

In Birmingham, Eng., the stealing of bicycles has become so prevalent that the local offices of the leading insurance companies have abandoned cycle insurance.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

Division 2 will hold a regular meeting on Friday night.

The County Board will hold an important meeting tomorrow.

Minneapolis members have arranged a joint celebration for St. Patrick's day.

Newport, Ohio, is one of the latest towns to organize a division of the order.

Nearly every local Hibernian one meets is enthusiastic on the subject of the new home.

A new division, with a charter membership of forty, has been organized at Churchville, N. Y.

Division 11 of Utica conferred the first and second degrees on a class of forty candidates at its last meeting.

The St. Patrick's day committee promises to surpass all previous efforts this year in arranging a fitting celebration.

At Trenton, N. J., a new branch of the Ladies' Auxiliary has been established. It starts out with a membership of thirty.

The ladies will furnish a unique spread at their next meeting, when the men of the four local divisions will be their guests.

Through the efforts of the order in Syracuse the Christian Brothers have added Irish history to the curriculum in their academy.

The regular meeting of Division 4 will be held Wednesday night. It is probable that President Murphy will name his other committees.

Division 1 of Manchester, N. H., has a balance of $14,000 in the treasury. It is reaping a splendid per cent. profit from its real estate holdings.

Division 2 of Manchester, N. H., is trying to bring its membership up to 250. The members are talking about acquiring land and building their own home.

During the past year two new divisions have been organized in Onondaga county, N. Y., and another will be organized on March 17. This will give the county thirteen divisions.

Division 2 of Hartford, Conn., had 12,000 persons at its annual ball. The Mayor of the city and the President of the State Board of the Ladies' Auxiliary led the opening grand march.

Division 1 meets Tuesday night, at which time the Literary Committee, composed of Capt. Tom Riley, Mike Tynan and William M. Higgins, will have an interesting announcement to make.

Tomorrow afternoon the ladies and gentlemen interested in the dramatic club will meet at the residence of Secretary Thomas Keenan on West Market street. Plans will be discussed and several plays submitted for rehearsal.

Division 7 of Minneapolis is in a flourishing condition according to the last quarterly report. During the year 1905 it paid out $500 in sick and death benefits and still has a balance on hand of $1,100 and 200 members in good standing.

Every Catholic organization in Onondaga county will unite with the Syracuse Hibernians in the street parade on St. Patrick's day. The members of the order will wear black Fedora hats, while the gray will distinguish county and division officers.

TRINITY MINSTRELS

Will Give Washington's Birthday Performance for Holy Name.

The young men who compose Trinity Council's minstrel troupe will give a performance for the benefit of Holy Name church in the school hall at Fourth and O streets on Thursday evening, February 23. All the latest sentimental and popular ballads will be given. The trio will see several excellent amateur vaudeville specialties.

The principal number on the programme is the laughable farce, "The Haunted House." Messrs. John J. Flynn, Bernard Cuniffe, Joseph Worland and Richard A. Hill will take the parts. The popularity of the Rev. Father John O'Connor, pastor of the church, and the excellence of the performance ought to fill the hall.

INDIANA POLITICS.

J. A. Ashbrenner, who is making the race for Representative from Floyd county to the Indiana Legislature, subject to the action of the Democratic party, is a prominent member of Unity Council, Y. M. I.

Emile Dupiquier, another member of Unity Council and of the Club House Committee, is making the race for Auditor of Floyd county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

JOHN BAIRD IMPROVES.

John Baird, city editor of the Louisville Times, has so far recovered from his recent injuries as to walk out occasionally, but it may be several weeks before he will be able to resume his editorial duties. No newspaper man in Louisville is more popular than Mr. Baird and his friends are anxious for his return to the desk.

C. K. of A.—No society has done more to unite our Catholic men and get them acquainted with one another, to elevate their morally, socially and in business, to wipe out the lines and prejudices of nationality and, by inculcating a spirit of brotherly love and unity, making them better men and better citizens than the Catholic Knights of America.

IRELAND.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

The Belfast Guardians have been able to reduce their new poor rate by a very small percentage.

The number of Irish young ladies who are becoming nuns in England is growing into large proportions.

The Court of King's Bench has decided that the corporation bill to increase the salary of the Mayor of Dublin was illegal.

Sister Mary Paul Murphy, formerly of Kilkenny, died at Middleton, where she had been fifty-eight years a Presentation nun.

Father Philip Byrne, for seven years in charge of the English Catholic mission at Islington, has returned to labor in Cashel.

The Industrial Development Association at Queenstown reports that its orders are so many that it can not fill them immediately.

Richard O'Brien, proprietor of the Wicklow Hotel in Dublin and prominently identified with that city's interests, died recently.

Very Rev. P. M. Ward, of the Carmelite fathers, observed the golden jubilee of his ordination at the church of his order on Whitefriar street.

The Mayo County Council has passed resolutions denouncing jury packing at Sligo and protesting against the retention of Sir Horace Plunkett in office.

At a large meeting of the Chamber of Commerce in Limerick it was decided to hold an industrial exhibition for Munster and Connaught in that city during the year.

According to returns made by Prof. Hare, of Queen's College, the rainfall in Galway for 1905 was 20.11 inches, or 9.50 inches less than during the previous year.

At a meeting of the Proposals Committee of the Dublin County Council a resolution was passed to the effect that finger posts throughout the county should be erected in both Irish and English.

Irish Ireland is rejoiced at the effective strength and patriotism of the Irish vote in the large cities of England during the election. The Celtic race now seems destined to control politics in that country.

An unusual occurrence in the County Roscommon has attracted much attention to the condition of the court houses in various places. The petty sessions was to be held at Loughglenn, but the dangerous condition of the court house there alarmed the Magistrates and they refused to sit in the building. Court was then held in the open air.

The salmon weir at Corbally on the Shannon, a mile or so above the city of Limerick, has been sold to an English syndicate by the present lessees. The lease has about thirty years more to run, and arrangements are already being made for the transfer of the management. The weir was for centuries the property of the corporation, but their rights were sold about twenty years ago to meet the claims of mortgages of city property.

REVISION

Of Mackin Council's By-Laws
May Be Recommended
Soon.

Mackin Council held its regular meeting Tuesday night. Every officer was present and the attendance was fair. Three applications for membership were reported favorably. President Charles S. Ralby appointed the following committee to consider the revision of that part of the by-laws that relates to the death benefits: Ben Sand, James Shelley, Frank Adams, Louis J. Kieffer, Clarence Zook, George J. Lantz and John Boland. If it is deemed advisable the committee will report in favor of raising the death benefit from $100 to $150.

This council will soon have another initiation, when the degrees will be conferred on a large class.
